PERSONALITY PARADE

Frank Angel

Five feet, seven and three quarter inches tall, light complexion, with oval-shaped face, blue eyes, which have a mischievous sparkle, and an enticing smile are his outstanding features. Blond hair gives hint of a wave. His slender, supple body gives an impression of neatness. Blue is his favorite color. His assets: kindness, a generous nature, an even temper. Fencing, saber and archery are his favorite sports. His surname, Angel, is misleading. He is what the boys consider a "regular fellow". His liabilities, an aversion to study, his liking for games of chance.

Salome Antecka

Sally has blond hair, light blue eyes and a straight and erect figure. She helps and assists anyone who seeks her aid. Her motto could easily be, "At your service". Being only sixteen, she is the youngest of the class. She is the assistant editor of the Casmirecho, editor of the Casmirecho, and chief of two round table study groups.

Ladislava Basta

Charlotte was born on New Year's Day, eighteen years ago. She is dainty about her manners; her hair, which absorbs some of her time, is set in a page-boy fashion. During her last year she developed a special liking for fencing, archery and ballroom dancing. All of this has not prevented her from giving the greatest portion of her time to study. It was thru study that she won a two year scholarship here. All have noticed her change of attitude, she is no more the reticent lassie but an assertive mademoiselle.
Irene Borkowska

She is a tall, slender girl of eighteen with brown hair and blue eyes. She dresses conservatively and modestly. She is fond of music, dancing and sports. Although easily aroused to anger and not easy to forgive, she has many friends. Her interest in studies is mild. She plays the accordion.

Ann Ciborowska

Blond, blue-eyed Ann returned to St. Casimir to finish her high school days after spending her freshmen year at Condon. Determination to win, marks any argument entered into. A fair student, her interest in commercial work makes her confident of fulfilling any position offered her. Her assistance and cooperation have always been willingly extended.

Edward Ewald

Eddie, a tall, light-haired, blue-eyed boy of seventeen, is the jokester of the class. His keen sense of humor tends to make him over talkative but not temperamental. His pleasing personality and sunny disposition brighten even the gloomiest face. He'll tell a joke regardless of place or time. Fencing, sabre, archery and baseball are his favorite sports. He is president of the Senior Class and jokes editor on the Casmirette Staff.

Walter Izworski

A brown-haired, brown-eyed youth of seventeen, he is known for his ability to solve difficult mathematical problems. A good memory and logical reasoning provide him the necessary qualifications for his ambition, that of being a scientist. Serious, contemplative and dignified, he is an excellent student and a hard worker. As staff artist of the Casmirette and the Casmirecho he has helped to make both, things of beauty.
Mary Kochanska  "Marie"

Tall, slim, seventeen year-old Mary has hazel eyes and auburn hair. Her willingness to study is average. Makes friends easily because of her cheerful disposition and carefree manner. She enjoys a good joke whether she or someone else tells it. Active in all sports for girls, she prefers basketball. Her attendance at St. Casimir's school for twelve years has been quite regular.

Anthony Kosla  "Tony" or "Bombek"

Anthony is small, chubby, playful and is seventeen years old, has black hair with a hint of gray (must be worrying) and set of brown eyes in a dark complected face. His life is in his music. All know him as first accordionist though he plays piano too. St. Casimir's never had a greater booster or more obliging gentleman. His studies get a small part of his time, though he was attentive and ready with thought-provoking questions. He is the soul of generosity.

Joseph Kubicki  "Joe"

Slick black hair, dark eyes and a tall, slim figure are the chief physical features of Joe. Although usually quiet, he has many friends who seem to appreciate a good listener. He is well-mannered and is intelligent. His reticence indicates inattentiveness but his answers prove otherwise. Not over-enthusiastic about studies he does fairly well. His motto seems to be, "Boys should be seen and not heard!"

Eleanor Kujawa  "Lenore"

Tall, slim, light brown hair, brown eyes, and an olive complexion are her physical features. Her manner is gracious and polite although apt to be dictatorial. She likes to talk about her accomplishments. An average student, music is her chief concern for she plays the accordion, the guitar and the clarinet. She already teaches music, but dreams of a music studio of her own. She has been president of our class in 1937 and social life editor of The Casimirette.
Edward Kumor

"Eddie" or "Kumorek"

Eddie is a brown-haired, brown-eyed young man of seventeen. His motto is, "Action speak louder than words!" This is especially true when he is reciting. He is a quick-tempered, friendly, all-around fellow. His favorite sport is baseball. His ambition is to become a lawyer. He is practicing already, getting into all sorts of arguments. He is president and business manager of the Athletic Association and vice president of the Senior class.

Anna Lewicka

"Annie"

Petite, clever, brown-eyed Annie for twelve years has attended St. Casimir School regularly. Has a quiet, friendly and sunny disposition at all times. In the course of four years in high school, she held many offices which she conscientiously fulfilled. Annie is a shining example of an honor student. Her virtues are many. Her faults we haven't discovered, a fine subject for teacher's dreams.

Cecilia Lojewska

"Celia"

Celia is a dark-haired, gray-eyed girl of eighteen. She is a good student but tends to be talkative. Through her incessant laughter at a humorous remark, she has often been dubbed, "Giggles." Her remarks are apt to be impulsive and boisterous but frank and sincere. Her cooperation is always generously given. She is the pianist in the high school orchestra and a native of St. Stephens.

Adelaide Łukaszewska

"Adele"

Another regular attendant of St. Casimir for twelve years is Adele, a blond-haired, gray-eyed young lady of eighteen. Usually quiet and enveloped in her own thoughts anything but a quiet remark from her would be quite a shock. She is determined to become a capable stenographer or librarian. Her pleasing reserve offers her much time to read many books which is one of her hobbies, the other being dancing.
Cecilia Mastej

"Celia"

A small, dainty, dark-eyed brunette with a high soprano voice is Celia. She is known for her wise-cracks and for her versions of popular songs. In her studies she is fair. Her hobbies are singing and dancing. Although she entered St. Casimir from St. Andrews quite by accident she has added much to the strange personnel of our class.

Camille Mateja

Brown-haired, brown-eyed Camille is a slender girl of seventeen. Fencing, archery and dancing are her favorite past-times. She also enjoys a good book. Honesty and dependability have earned her the position of treasurer for two years. Where the question of money arises she knows all the answers. Her ambition is to be a smart business woman and she shows signs of being such already.

Mildred Nowosatko

"Millie"

Mildred has wavy brown hair, laughing brown eyes, and a cheerful, friendly, intelligent and well-mannered disposition. Efficiency has gained her the position of Mission President. She is always willing to sacrifice her time to help. She plays the piano and likes to dance. Her ambition is to become a fashion designer and stylist.

Joseph Ochmanek

"Butch"

Joseph has a striking physical resemblance to Napoleon. His unquestionable honesty has made him treasurer of the Mission Crusade. St. Francis parishioners will soon see him on the Board of Trustees. Joe's philosophy is "Waste makes waste" and so he is slow in action, slow in words, slow in decisions, but never late. One of his hobbies is collecting coins. His physical strength has merited him the title, "Champion Fencer of St. Casimir Hi". A fact worthy of mention is that, Joe has not missed a single day in his entire high school course.
John Ostrowski
"Johnnie"

Although inclined to be a trifle shy in appearance this tall, erect business-like looking young man of eighteen proves to really be a joyful, carefree, yet loyal and steadfast friend. Though quite regular in attendance, the ambition-for-study bug did not bite him. His mind naturally turns to lighter themes. He likes, archery, fencing and dancing. What his ambitions are, is more than we can surmise.

Stephan Pietrzyk
"Steve" or "Pete"

Tall, slender Pete is a young lad of seventeen. Pete likes to have a voice in everything of importance. Having a kind of a voice that can be heard above all others, he is often called "Majority". He has a carefree manner and is quick to draw conclusions. Interest in studies is faint. He is the mimeograph machine operator or in other words the "Cracker".

Harriet Szychowska
"Hattie"

Light-brunette, Hazel-eyed, plump, rosy-cheeked Hattie has attended St. Casimir School for twelve years. Although a little quick-tempered, she soon gets over her anger and resumes her friendly disposition. Rather studious she does best in studies she likes. As assistant librarian in the high school she has an experience which will help to realize her ambition, that of librarian in a public library.

Helen Urban
"Helen"

Helen is a brown-haired, brown-eyed girl of seventeen. Although a little shy, her determined spirit brings out her best abilities. Friendly, lovable, good-natured Helen is everybody's friend. She is a good-walker and always willing to cooperate fully. She relishes telling true-to-life stories. The positions of secretary and typist have been retained by her a number of times.
Henry Urban

"Ambitious"

A true son of Poland is Hank. He was born there eighteen years ago. Coming to America when only six he has been singing praises of Poland ever since. He hopes to return there after graduation. Although with us only a year, he has gained himself many friends. He is intelligent but fails to show it at times. Is it humility or just plain day-dreaminess, we don't know. Confidentially Henry Urban is striving to become the Dictator of Poland and we think that his chances are very good, considering his excellent qualifications.

CLASS OF JUNE 1938

They just heard a rumor that WPA is hiring again.
HISTORY HIGHLIGHTS

Freshmen Year 1934 - 35

September 5, 1934, forty-two freshmen entered the portals of St. Casimir High School, representing all of the West Side parishes.

In the last week of October, we were formally initiated as students of St. Casimir High School.

The group known as Room 303 earned the Merit Cup for scholastic achievements for the entire year. (six times in all.)

Sophomore Year 1935 - 36

September 9, 1935, thirty ambitious sophomores returned to bury their noses in their "beloved" Books. Helen Fabiszak and Joseph Janiga left our midst, the former for the Felician Sisters' Academy to be a nun and the latter for St. Mary's College to be a priest.

Revenge is sweet! We had the honor of initiating the New Comers!

Junior Year 1936 - 37

September 3, 1936, twenty-six jolly Juniors decided to again attempt to crash the gates of knowledge. Because of Our School Spirit (in securing the most patrons) Father Stolinski awarded us a trip to Greenfield Village. Of all days, the trip was on a Friday, and only hot dogs were sold at the concessions!

Unexpectedly Sally was called from her scholastic duties only to return three weeks later minus her appendix.

To raise funds for our depleted treasury a Bingo Party was sponsored. Returns proved very, very satisfactory.

In the latter part of the Junior year we looked forward to the Senior - Junior banquet which is an annual custom put forth by the Juniors. It was a great success!

The Class of '37 gave us the privilege of publishing the June issue of the "Casmirette".

Senior Year 1937 - 38

September 8, 1937, twenty-four serious-minded, studious students, donned with the name of "Seniors", ran down the last stretch of the race of knowledge hoping for the award of the golden trophy of learning.

Early in the year fencing, archery and dancing were introduced to the girls while the boys were acquainted with saber-hoarding, fencing and Arabian tumbling under the instruction of Miss Swanson and Mr. Alexander.

October will long be remembered for the colorful, costumed Halloween Party.

November--With no special occasion to commemorate we eagerly awaited the coming of Christmas holidays.

We celebrated Christmas with a simple luncheon, after which gifts and cards were exchanged.

After what the teachers called a "Vacation", we were forced to return to our dusty seats and bury ourselves in our books.

January with its cold, chilly mornings gave us its breezy blow when on January 10th we almost froze to frazzles. The boilers broke! And Hurrah! We were sent home.
The arrival of our class rings although belated was welcomed by all on January 17th.

The following day, Professor Kinsella of the University of Detroit honored us with a little boy's version of the story of "Samson and Delilah" among other things.

After many days of preparation for the annual affair, the Senior Prom, our efforts were at last rewarded on Sunday, January 23rd, when the attendance numbered more than 400. With Karl Speeth directing the orchestra more than 600 rhythmic feet tripped the "light fantastic" on the floor of our auditorium. The returns from this event were so satisfactory that we (Class of '38) were able to furnish the publication office with an elite typo writer and a steel cabinet which accommodates the microscope, mimeograph, typewriter and accessories used in mimeographing.

Another distinguished speaker, Professor Alvin O'Konsky, visited us on February 7th. His theme was that ever debated subject, "Communism".

The Boy's Basketball team won the Third Division West Side Championship for the third successive time.

The Girls' Basketball team had a fair season under the direction of Miss Costello.

On Sunday, March 3rd, the Juniors generously treated us to the play entitled, "Fantasy of the Passion" at Holy Redeemer. Thanks a million! Gratias!

In the course of our preparations for graduation the boys had their pictures taken at Arthur's Studio, on April 5th. The following day, the snow did not keep the girls from doing the same.

The very popular play, "An Old Fashioned Mother" was presented to a packed house on three successive days, with the final performance on May 15th.

An initial event to be celebrated hereafter annually, was the Alumni Day, celebrated on June 5th, the Sunday before Commencement Day. On this day the Seniors, in their caps and gowns, accompanied by the Alumni and the student body received Holy Communion. A breakfast, sponsored by the Alumni, was given for the graduates in the auditorium. From thence they were one of the Alumni.

SUNDAY, JUNE 12th - THE BIG DAY!!!
LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT. We, the Class of 1938, of St. Casimir High School, of the City of Detroit, State of Michigan, being of sound mind and memory, do make, publish, and declare this our last will and testament, in manner and form as follows:

FIRST: To the faculty, we direct our gratitude and appreciation for their constant guidance and assistance in overcoming obstacles on the road to scholarly achievement.

SECOND: To the Juniors, our successors, we bequeath our title, "Seniors".

THIRD: To the Sophomores, we leave our spirit of helpfulness and cooperation.

FOURTH: To the Freshmen, we donate our much used erasers, pencils, left-over loose-leaf pages, tablets, our collars and cuffs and anything left over that may be of any use to them.

LASTLY: As individuals, we give, bequeath, and devise as follows:

I, Francis Angel, leave my flirtatious nature to Walter Jaje.
I, Salome Antecka, leave my conscientiousness to John Wiencek.
I, Charlotte Basta, leave my promptness in school work to Adam Poniatowski.
I, Irene Borkowska, leave my secretarial ability to Mary Chudzik.
I, Anne Ciborowska, leave my forgetfulness to Irene Rakowska.
I, Edward Ewald, leave my gift of gab to Leonard Borowski.
I, Walter Izworski, leave my delight in arguing to John Kuras.
I, Mary Kochanska, leave my blushing to Rita Myszkowska.
I, Anthony Kosla, leave my spirit of helpfulness to Leonard Turowski.
I, Joseph Kubicki, leave my taciturnity to Mary Sarosiek.
I, Eleanore Kujawa, leave my self-assurance to Henry Ulanski.
I, Edward Kumor, leave my determination to Charles Czajkowski.
I, Anne Lewicka, leave my patience to Edward Manko.
I, Cecilia Lojewska, leave my school spirit to Irene Sobczak.
I, Adelaide Lukaszewska, leave my love for school to Henry Mickiewicz.
I, Cecilia Mastaj, leave my giggling to Mary Budna.
I, Camille Mateja, leave my salesmanship to Stephanie Niznik.
I, Mildred Nowosatko, leave my missionary zeal to Bernice Bem.
I, Joseph Ochmanek, leave my manliness to Clarence Donzal.
I, John Ostrowski, leave my dancing feet to Leonard Helminski.
I, Stephen Pietrzyk, leave my menagerie to Theodore Konopka.
I, Harriet Szychowska, leave my plumpness to my sister, Anne.
I, Helen Urban, leave my poise to Mary Chudzik.
I, Henry Urban, leave my handsome profile to Walter Brzienk.

Signed

Class of '38
Lend me your ears friends
And listen to me,
I'll tell you a story
Of the things I did see.

Six years have elapsed since
That day in the church
Where the Seniors departed
Their future to search.

I boarded a trolley
In the best part of town,
The conductor was Tony
Looking on with a frown.

I was sure that our Tony
A Symphony Director would be,
But here disappointed
A conductor you see.

Where the traffic was heavy
A cop I did see.
'Twas Kubicki my classmate.
Tall and husky was he.

On a street that was crowded
A man I did perceive
He stood on a soap box,
Perspiring was Steve.

As we turned the corner,
A studio I did adore
Of those music lovers,
Falcon and Eleanor.

I got off at the market
To see who there did work,
Found Johnnie, the manager
Little Annie a clerk.
Standing at the counter
Were Ann and Mary the nurses
Conversing with Henry
Manufacturer of hearse.

I walked right up to them,
And heard many a thing.
Izy's a scientist,
And Sally can sing.

I heard of Frank Angel,
And Butch to be sure,
As champions of fencing
To the games they do lure.

The lawyer of our group
Was Kumor you've guessed,
With Lucas the secretary
Efficient with zest.

They told me of Celia
Who's worked for a year
As Detroit's outstanding
Electrical Engineer.

I inquired of Mildred
Lottie, Harriet, Camille.
They published a paper,
The noted "Reville".

Eddie Ewald, our president
Was an announcer so fine,
He spoke many a language,
It may have been nine.

The last of my classmates
Was Cecilia, or Dipsy,
In Hollywood she starred
In "The Poor Little Gypsy".

You wonder about Helen,
What became of that girl,
I'm she! Now you've guessed
What I am in this world!
St. Casimir Unit
of the
Catholic Students Mission Crusade

On March 15, 1934, six months before the present graduating class, were Freshmen, and while Sister Mary Bernadette was moderator, the St. Casimir Mission Unit, became officially a member (No. 1312) of the Catholic Students Mission Crusade. The certificate of membership was signed by Archbishop Beckman of Dubuque, as Chairman, Monsignor Frank Thill, as past Secretary Treasurer and Archbishop McNicholas, of Cincinnati, as president. Today, Very Reverend Monsignor Freking, D. D. is the Secretary Treasurer.

The work of Mission crusaders consisted principally of prayers for missions, and the collecting of leadfoil and cancelled stamps. The meetings were enlivened by occasional plays and songs, directed by Sister Mary Raynelda, moderator from September, 1935 - June, 1937. With the year 1937-38 the crusade activities became more pronounced. In accordance with the wishes of Archbishop Edward Mooney and with the permission of our pastor, Reverend Edward Maisel, money offerings were made for the missions.

Wednesday became "Mission Sacrifice Day" and some Crusaders responded generously. A mission bulletin board was set aside for posting intentions, notices, mission calendars, colorful and attractive designs and cut outs by Mildred Nowosatko, the president of the Unit, never failed to draw the attention of passing students and visitors.

The students entered into an intensified study of the missions. The round table plan was adopted. The Seniors were the first to organize two tables to study Communism, one with Salome Antecka, and the other with Edward Kumor as chiefs. By speeches, posters, graphs, scrapbooks, they made public the knowledge gained. For their second study they chose "The Negro American" with the same students as chiefs. "Oceania" and "The Philippine Islands" occupied their minds as final studies, with Anna Lewicka and Irene Borkowska as chiefs. The 40 Juniors were no less ambitious. "The Home Missions of the Southwest" proved a very absorbing mission study to the Junior groups with Virginia Budna and Irene Szczolkowska as chiefs. Models of mission chapels along El Camino Real, Missionary Catechists and first communicants, interior of a chapel with complete miniature altar, Southwest, all formed part of a fascinating mission display on which a number of Junior round tablers collaborated.

Far off China missions were the field of study for the Sophomore girls with Florence Bien as chief.

The crowning event of the mission activities for the year was a debate on the subject: "Resolved; That the growth of Christianity among the Negroes of the United States can be advanced most rapidly through cultural advancement along racial lines." Eleanore Kujawa, Ladislave Basta, and Salome Antecka upheld the affirmative. The negative was deftly handled by Edward Kumor, Walter Izworski and Edward Ewald. Members of the faculty and the Seniors acted as judges.

The highest degree in the Crusade, that of Paladin Leader was conferred on 10 Crusaders. In all 81 degrees were granted during the year 1937-38. 56 Paladin Companions, 15 Paladins with Merit and 10 Paladin Leaders. It is the hope and prayer of St. Casimir Mission Crusaders and their moderator, Sister Mary Evangeline, that, firstly, more graduates will enter the mission fields and that more stars will be added to the lone one on the St. Casimir Mission Service flag, secondly, that all graduates become veteran members of the Crusade, and of the Society for the Propagation of the Faith and thirdly, that prayer and sacrifice for missions will become a part of their lives.

"The harvest, indeed, is great but the workers are few".

Anna Lewicka
Sec'y of the Unit 1937-38

You may forget the happy days
That you have spent in school.
You may forget the things you've learned
And then be called a fool.

But whatever some people call you
Or what in life you may be,
Please, remember the missions. Will you?
Work, save, pray, your motto should be.

AN OLD FASHIONED MOTHER

THE STORY

The play is a parable of a mother's love triumphant over the ingratitude and neglect of her children.

In the tiny village of Canton, in northern New York, stands Aunt Deborah Underhill's farmhouse. Aunt Deborah is nearly seventy years old, a widow and the mother of four boys and two girls. All of the children, however, have married and moved away with the exception of John and Charley. John is the youngest and is led astray by evil companions.

The village choir is rehearsing in Aunt Deb's "settin' room". The rehearsal is frequently interrupted by Jeremiah Gosling, a comical country boy always trying to swap something, and by Miss Lowisy Loviny Custard, the romantic old maid who is anxious to recite her original poetry. John brings home a poor exhausted tramp. The tramp tells the story of his life ruined by drink and Aunt Deb gives him money to return to his home in Buffalo.
John takes a vow never to drink again. Charley brings home his fiancée in for tea. Soon the Sheriff is admitted. John is arrested and despite his protestations of innocence, dragged away to jail.

Three years pass and no word from John, though his innocence has been proved and he has been released from jail. Charley persuades his mother to mortgage the old home to give him a start in the city. She does so against the advice of the faithful Gloriana. A merry sleighing party arrives bound for the singing school and the house hold join the party. John totters in a starvation homeless tramp. He is about to steal his mother's savings when Enoch Rone, the tramp, now a prosperous merchant, intercepts him and starts John for Oklahoma and a new life.

Two years later Aunt Deb is bound for the poorhouse but is saved from the disgrace by the arrival of John, a prosperous and respected zinc miner in Oklahoma.

COMMENTS

No one among the students could have given a better interpretation of Aunt Deb than Helen U.

Who will forget the solicitous Sally A. as Gloriana. Shall we ever find another Jerry and a better doo-daddle than Mitchell's.

Joseph O. and Irene S. seemed to be born into their fantastic roles.

A Western State couldn't give us a more imposing sheriff than Hank M.

Mary S. and Rose B. as Widder Bill Pindle and Nellie may not have looked like mother and daughter but they certainly acted like it.

We all agreed that Edward M. as the tramp made a good "poor starving tramp" as well as a prosperous merchant.

We wonder if Edward K. who played John isn't contemplating the New York stage after graduation.

QUIZ CORNER

The following students were confronted by Prof. Quincinski with the question:

"Are you glad you're leaving school? If so, why? If not, why?

S. Artucka: Oh, I'm sorry it's over. I just have school. Or do I? That's silly!!

F. Angel: I'm glad it's over. No more boring lectures in physics.

L. Basta: I'm glad it's over. Now I'll be able to recuperate from my hard studies.

I. Borkowska: Sorry it's over. I was still hoping to have it out with my aggressors.

A. Ciborowska: Oh, I dunno. I'm sorry to leave my friends, but glad to be rid of my studies.

E. Ewald: Sorry it's over. I'm sure I won't have a more appreciative audience to my wise cracks than at school. It's really funny. My jokes, I mean. ha. ha.

W. Izworski: Glad. No more. "Izzy draw this, Izzy do that or this." 'Twas really nerve-wracking, but I had to take it.

M. Kochanska: (Giggle) If I had my way I'd have been out long ago. (Giggle) I never did like school nohow.
A. Kosla: Glad it's over. If I was to be there any longer, I'm sure I'd need a new accordion.

E. Kumor: Doggonit, I'm sorry it's over. It'll be a long time before I'll be able to speak before an audience again.

J. Kubicki: Glad it's over. It always was too noisy for me. I enjoy peace, quiet and solitude......

E. Kujawa: Sorry it's over. No more basket-ball games with Mt. Carmel. I did enjoy their team. ????

A. Lewicka: Sorry! I don't know what I'll do with myself now that it's over. I was so used to that front seat next to my teacher.

C. Lojewska: Sorry it's over? Me? Don't be silly. I think I've learned enough already. Let the young ones have a chance now.

A. Lukaszewska: Gosh, I never thought of it, I really don't know whether to be sorry or glad. What? You think I should be glad...Well, alright...Come to think of it I am glad. Now I'll have time to learn the secrets of a housewife.

C. Mateja: It isn't over yet. I still have four years ahead of me. When I've lived through that, you may ask me. Thank you.

C. Mastej: Hurrah for our side. I knew it wouldn't last. Now I feel free, and as light as a feather. No more worry. No more care. And above all no more Books.

M. Nowosatko: I'M sorry it's come to an end. I'd like to live all four years over again. They've really been fun. I'll never forget these school days, never. Sob! Sob! Sob!
J. Ochmanek: Yes, yes, yes. Fickle human nature is what I say. Here today and gone tomorrow. Our school-days may be so judged. Although the days will be gone tomorrow, the dear thought will remain forever.

J. Ostrowski: I never could make money in school anyway. Now that it's over, I can begin. My mind is made up. I'm going to follow my father's profession and be a butcher.

S. Pietrzyk: Glad! The school was always too small for my voice anyway. It was made for the wide open spaces.

H. Szychowska: Glad it's over. I hated to get up at seven bells. Now I'll have a good time, go to bed late and sleep till noon.

Helen Urban: I couldn't wait till it was over so as I could be at the JENNY LEE'S SWEET SHOP and not worry about the morning after.

Henry Urban: Who, me? Oh, I dunno. I guess maybe I'm glad... Why? Well in the first place I'll be able to organize my "SEMI-FASCIST, ANTI-JEWISH, NON-COMMUNIST, RADICAL ORGANIZATION." In the second place, graduation brings me nearer to my ambition—dictator of Poland.

You can always tell a freshman
By the way he acts a fool;
You can always tell the sophomore
By the way he comes to school;
You can always tell a junior
By his most important walk;
You can always tell the faculty
By the subject of their talk;
You can always tell the summer
From the winter and the fall;
But you cannot tell the senior
Anything at all.
